Greetings from the Swift's

We strive to keep shipping costs low with Swift's 50 and 288 Plugs!

One of our greatest advantages to producing superior vernalized perennial 50-plugs is our location in the heart of the USA. Beautiful Summers and crisp Falls with cold Winters enhance the vernalization of our plants naturally.

We are blessed to have our dedicated and highly experienced grower team and employees to produce our plants economically with great added value and superior quality. Our production team works year-round to continue to improve our quality. Almost 40 percent of our full-time team have 10-25 years of service, and we are proud of the work they do.

Our ability to produce these predictable perennial 50-plugs starts with great genetics. We are extremely grateful for our relationships with plant breeders and suppliers from across the globe as we seek some of the latest and greatest new additions. Our diverse product line makes us a one stop shop. From our vernalized 50-plug ready to bloom for spring, to our first-year flowering 288-plugs actively grown to order, each has its advantages. Swift's 50-plugs are economically priced lower than most of our competitors “72-Plugs”, so it’s a no brainer!

Our central location allows nearly all of our 50-plugs and many of our 288-plugs to ship in 2 to 3 days FedEx Ground to your door economically. We also regularly negotiate with LTL carriers to get you the most economical and reliable freight in the country. We take great care in saving you money in every aspect of shipping as it is now more important than ever. We work hard keeping the overall costs low for you. We are honored to help you have a predicable spring with our amazing plants. Remember, ‘Our Plants are Thrivers!’

Have a Blessed Season!

Mementos to a Mentor - Todd Swift Retirement Farewell

More than 10 years ago, I, a newly graduated college student seeking to be a greenhouse grower was called back from Swift Greenhouses after applying to be a plug grower. Little did I know then what I would become and learn over the years. My journey all started with Todd Swift and came full circle a little over a year ago when he retired. I remember many of the detailed questions Todd asked me in January of 2014. We talked about growing plugs and seedlings, my limited experience as a student, and what kinds or fertilization we used at school and during my internship. We talked about the time commitment and dedication I would be asked to give in order to be successful in my new endeavor. After many considerations, my wife and I decided to pack our small apartment and move to the Midwest and I accepted a role as a plug grower.

The drive was fairly simple through Wyoming and Nebraska and on towards Iowa. However, it became complicated as our car carrying trailer broke down in who knows where in Nebraska. After getting our car carefully off and back on a new car trailer in Omaha, we made out for the final 3-hours of the drive.

It must have been the first snow storm of the year in early February, because several cars in Des Moines were in the ditch and more were spinning out around us (stay on I-80 around Des Moines, lessons learned and avoid I-235 during a heavy snow storm!). Needless to say, after getting to the greenhouse, we were relieved. Todd gave my wife and I our first greenhouse tour, as a few houses were warming up, it was exciting to see the vast range of perennials and greenhouse climates. Some houses were 32-33 degrees to properly vernalization our 50-plugs, others 68-70 to grow our seedling 288-plugs. Luckily, I opted for the more temperate climate for growing in. After visiting with the grower team that evening, Todd and Shauna helped my wife and I unload our things in the rental house they helped us find. Did I mention it was still snowing! I am grateful for those early years of input, training, coaching and opportunity to help in a wide range of tasks within the greenhouse.

Fast forward to 3 years ago, as Todd and the Swift family started planning for his retirement. During our reviews we planned how I could help in carrying on the tradition of quality plugs that are economically priced. He helped me carry on the tradition he achieved over the many years prior by investing in me to learn many of the new tasks and roles he held while growing Swifts. I am grateful for the opportunity to fill those shoes. I'm now filing his shoes as I've taken over his roles as 288-plug business manager, along with my original position of head grower of 288-plugs production and annual/perennial blooming finished program. I might not be family, but I have always been treated as such. Todd, we wish you the best in retirement and the many adventures to come in your life.

From all of us here at Swift Greenhouses,
Have a great retirement!

Climbing Vine

Our color-coded tag system makes it easy for your customers to select plants by height, amount of sun, and bloom date so planting is easier!

John Henry Junior Portrait Tags are available for ALL 50-Plug varieties and automatically ship in the box with your plugs. 1 tag per plug.

Split tag shipments are not available. If you desire NO tags for specific varieties, please place those items on a separate order.

Each tag has a colored background corresponding with the garden placement each plant requires. Our tags also feature specialty garden symbols for: Deer Resistant, Attracts Butterflies, Attracts Hummingbirds, Rock Gardens, & Foot Friendly.

We have also carried our color coding and symbol system into our catalog. Please see page 1 for a legend explaining how they work!

"WEEKS TO BLOOM"

50-PLUG 'PREDICTABLE' PERENNIAL SCHEDULE

7-8 Weeks ← Look for these symbols throughout the catalog & list! → 10-11 Weeks

The #'s inside the pot = # of Weeks to bloom for 660+ 50-Plug varieties.

Will bloom in the # of weeks listed in a 4½" to 6" (gallon) pot if grown at the temperature parameters noted below.

REQUIRED TEMPERATURE PARAMETERS for "PREDICTABLE" BLOOMS

Planted from January 1 - March 15. If planted after March 15, reduce Weeks to Bloom by 1-2 weeks.
(Except those marked with a light bulb.)

Week 1:	68-70° nights	68-70° days
Week 2:	68° nights	66-68° days
Week 3:	65-67° nights	65-66° days
Week 5-7:	62-64° nights	60-63° days
Holding Temperature:	50-55° nights	55° days

This is the fastest method we have found for growing finished perennials. If you want to grow colder, remember every 5°F drop in temperature increases your crop finish time by approximately 1 week. Please note, some varieties indicate 2 or more plugs are required for gallon pots.

REQUIRES LIGHTS

Items with light bulbs need night interruption light AND warm day & night temperatures of at least 65-70°F constantly to grow and bloom in # of weeks stated.

They cannot be grown cooler until they start to bloom.

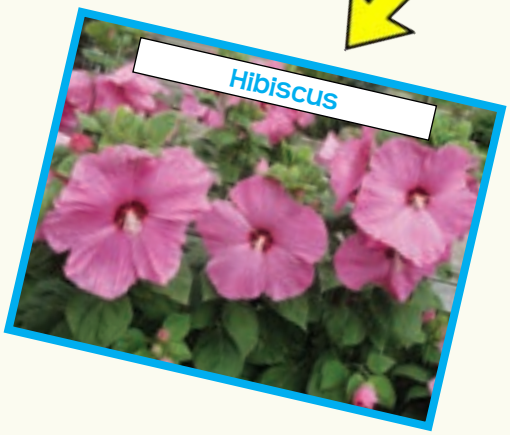
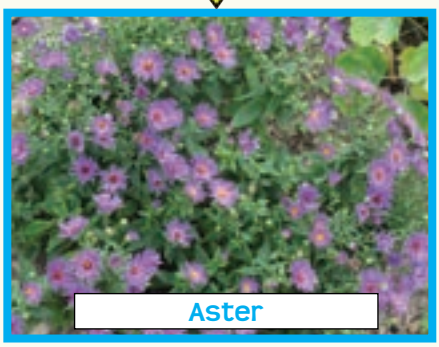
Do you grow...

this?

or this?

How about any of these?





Then you need these

And some warmth

These are known as 'long day' perennials.

(See a complete list for more varieties on reverse side, as well as more detailed growing information)

When grown from a dormant 50-plug, they require night temperatures no less than 65°F and 'night interruption' lighting. This is easy to do, all you have to do is turn a light bulb on over the crop from 10 p.m. to 2 a.m. The results are AMAZING!

GROWING RECOMMENDATIONS FOR thrivers™ Predictable 50 Plug Perennials

Swift Greenhouses, Inc. thrivers

These plants are NOT dead, just dormant! Do NOT throw them away!

Los plantas NO estamos muertos, esta durmiendo. ¡NO nos echen!

PLEASE NOTE: The following items and others may have no visible top growth when received. This is normal because these species emerge only from root tubers. These varieties may be induced to grow sooner with warmer night time temperatures of 65° - 70°F.

Aruncus
Asclepias
Aster
Baptisia
Delphinium
Echinacea
Grass - Native
Heliopsis
Hibiscus
Houttuynia
Oenothera

Dormant 50-Plugs

1. POT SIZE - 4", 4½", or Quart pot = 1 plug
   6" or Gallon pot = 1 plug for most varieties (2 plugs for dwarf or slow growing varieties)
2. SOIL - Well drained with a low nutrient charge.
3. TEMPERATURE - Night time growing 62° - 65°F, day time 65° - 70°F. After plants reach saleable size, night time temperatures can be lowered to 50° - 55°F to keep plants compact. Bottom heat is not recommended due to excessive stretch, except on slow growing varieties. A 10° - 15° temperature D.I.F. (days cooler than nights) can also be used to keep plants compact.
4. WATERING - Keep soil moist until roots reach the edge of the pot, then let soil dry to touch between waterings.
5. FERTILIZING - Wait 7-10 days after transplanting, then 100-150ppm every 3-4 days until plants reach saleable size, the 150ppm to keep plants green, 15-5-15 alternated with 17-2-17 is preferred. PPM may vary with different soil mixes.
6. TIMING - Most varieties will be saleable 7-9 weeks after planting in 4" to 1-Quart pots. Visit our website for a full list of Slow, Medium, & Fast growers. Slow growers may take 9 weeks, medium growers 8 weeks, and fast growers 6-7 weeks in 4" or Quart pots at 60°F+ nights. For 6" to Gallon pots, allow 10-12 weeks depending on temperature.
7. LIGHTING - Long day plants need to be under lights from 10 p.m. to 2 a.m. before April 1 to grow properly. Warm night temperatures (above 65°-70°F) are also required for most of these varieties. One incandescent light bulb of 100-150 watts per 100 flats is sufficient. Lighting may be turned off if growth is excessive.

Following is a list of perennials that require lighting and warm temperatures for proper growth:
